search solution for e-commerce

neuland

The search solution with a future

Many online stores reach the limits of standard search solutions: lack of flexibility, high costs, minimal control. HOLMES is the answer – a customizable, high-performance search solution that is based on open source and can be further developed individually.

neuland – your partner for customized e-commerce solutions

As an experienced e-commerce specialist based in Bremen and with a team of 140 employees, neuland has been supporting B2C and B2B online stores since 2006. We analyze business processes, define goals and develop tailor-made software solutions.

HOLMES – the powerful search accelerator

HOLMES is the result of our many years of project experience with complex search solutions. The HOLMES search is based on open source technologies such as Solr, OpenSearch or Elasticsearch and offers extensive basic search functions. A multifunctional back-office tool for configuring the search is included in the service package.

HOLMES integrates seamlessly into existing IT landscapes and enables to flexibly adapt the search to your business logic.

Our solution offers a powerful alternative to conventional standard products – without any license costs and with a significantly lower total cost of ownership (TCO).

Features of HOLMES

- Search preview with suggest function
- Search rules such as synonym suggestions, redirects, compound detection & stemming
- Search logic with search steps, sorting, rankings & facets
- Multi-client capability (also with multiple indices)
- Statistical evaluations

Your benefits with HOLMES

- Maximum flexibility & adaptability to your business requirements
- Low TCO - no additional traffic- or data-dependent costs
- On-premise solution with high data security
- High performance - fast delivery of search results
- Scalability - ideal for fast-growing companies
